MASTER OF COUNSELING

OSUcascades.edu/counseling
Our nationally accredited counseling program enables graduates to deliver professional counseling services in a clinical mental health or school setting. The program is distinguished by exceptional in-classroom instruction, a cohort model where students form strong bonds and progress together, and both academic knowledge and theory. The experience of closely supervised practicum and internships build competence in counseling skills and in personal growth.

CONCENTRATIONS

Clinical Mental Health Counseling

The clinical mental health counseling track is designed for individuals who want to work in community agencies, treatment programs, community colleges and other counseling centers.

Graduate students in the clinical mental health counseling track work in the OSU-Cascades Counseling Clinic which offers free mental health services to the Central Oregon community.

School Counseling (teaching experience/teaching license)

This concentration is designed for students who have already obtained a teaching credential and have at least two years of teaching experience. If you are a licensed teacher, you can be admitted into the MCoun program and complete the required courses for the Initial and Continuing School Counselor license as a part of your MCoun degree.

School Counseling (non-teaching experience)

This concentration is designed for students without a teaching license or teaching experience. Students must complete the MCoun degree to be eligible for the Initial School Counselor license. Coursework in this track includes 125 hours of school-based observations and at least 75 hours of direct responsibility for classroom instruction.

ACCREDITATION

The counseling program is accredited by the Council for Accrediting Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP), the gold standard in graduate counseling programs. This accreditation allows admitted students to take exams required for eligibility for licensure as an Oregon Licensed Professional Counselor. The program is recognized by the Oregon Board of Licensed Professional Counselors and the National Board of Certified Counselors as meeting coursework requirements for state licensing and national certification.

CACREP Vital Statistics 2017

OSU Counseling Academic Unit (CAU) faculty engage in continuous curricular and program assessments. Areas evaluated align with and exceed those specified by CACREP and the OSU Graduate School. We aim to provide exceptional learning environments and educational experiences for counseling students. Faculty collect and review comprehensive data each academic year as detailed in the CAU comprehensive assessment plan. This annual program report summary includes assessment results.
PART-TIME AND FULL-TIME OPTIONS

The Master of Counseling program offers a part-time option that spans three years as well as a full-time option that can be completed in two years. The programs begin in June of each year. Students choosing the part-time option take on average two classes per term, while students choosing the full-time option average four classes per term. Most classes are held in the evenings, starting at 4 p.m., Monday through Thursday with an occasional class offered in a weekend format.

Practicum and Internship

The coursework for this program integrates academic knowledge and theory with counseling practice and internships. In addition to coursework, students complete a 100-hour practicum and a 600-hour internship for the school track or a 900-hour internship for clinical mental health track. The master's level internship in the final year is intensive and typically requires 30-40 hours per week.

Completion of this degree meets academic eligibility requirements for School Counselor Licensure from the Oregon Teacher Standards and Practices Commission and Licensed Professional Counselor from the Oregon Board of Licensed Professional Counselors and Therapists.

 LICENSING OPPORTUNITIES

Licensed Professional Counselor

All MCoun graduates are eligible to apply for licensure as a Licensed Professional Counselor (LPC) from the Oregon Board of Licensed Professional Counselors and Therapists. Graduate counseling students are eligible to take the National Counselor Examination during the last quarter of their degree program. The results of this examination and other post-degree experiences required by OBLPCT are used to earn LPC status in Oregon.
